Bernard J. Milano, President of the KPMG Foundation, of the KPMG Disaster Relief Fund and of The PhD Project, was awarded the American Association of Blacks in Higher Education’s 2013 Advocacy Award. The award is given to a person who serves as an advocate for marginalized groups, and whose vision or actions have advanced issues of access and opportunities for Blacks and other underrepresented groups in higher education. Milano, who has a bachelor’s degree from Temple University, has been with KPMG since 1961, when he joined the Philadelphia office of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. KPMG is No. 23 in the DiversityInc Top 50.

Dave Bozeman has been promoted to Senior Vice President of Caterpillar, with responsibility for the Caterpillar Enterprise System Group. This newly created order-to-delivery organization will combine existing divisions and organizations from several functional areas within Caterpillar, including Global Purchasing, Manufacturing Logistics & Transportation, Caterpillar Production System, Lean Office and Process Transformation. Bozeman, who joined Caterpillar in 2008, previously was Vice President of the Integrated Manufacturing Operations Division. He has a bachelor’s degree from Bradley University and a master’s degree from the Milwaukee School of Engineering.

Rosalind Fuse-Hall has been appointed the next President of Bennett College, a small, private, historically Black, liberal-arts college for women in Greensboro, N.C. Fuse-Hall joins Bennett from Florida A&M University, where she was Interim Executive Director of Title III Programs and Chief of Staff to the President. She has also worked at North Carolina Central University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and St. Lawrence University. She has a bachelor’s degree from UNC Chapel Hill and a juris doctor from Rutgers School of Law. DiversityInc CEO Luke Visconti is a trustee emeritus of Bennett, and DiversityInc COO Carolynn Johnson is a trustee.