Career knowledge and connections that you can only get on the job.

An accounting or finance internship with Rockwell Collins can do great things for your present and future. It's an unbeatable supplement to your college studies because it brings to life the things you learn. It gives you in-depth knowledge of what it's like to work in your chosen field, along with the confidence that comes with your accomplishment. It will pack your resume with the experience, skills and industry-respected references that potential employers notice.

Perhaps most important of all, an internship with Rockwell Collins could result in a job offer from us after you graduate. Many of our former interns are now Rockwell Collins employees. You win – and so do we.

Our Accounting & Finance Internship Program is designed to make it easy for you to pursue an internship with us.

Do real work on real projects.

In the Accounting & Finance Internship Program, you might work on project-based assignments within the following areas:

- > Corporate tax
- > Cost accounting
- > Financial analysis
- > General ledger accounting
- > Internal audit
- > Operations finance
- > Pricing
- > Strategic planning
- > Treasury

These assignments will have you working on meaningful projects with talented colleagues and mentors in your field of study. You'll get training on the techniques, systems and software of your future career. And you'll have the chance to network with your project team members as well as Rockwell Collins executives.

Reap benefits beyond the job experience.

When you join Rockwell Collins as a participant in our Accounting & Finance Internship Program, you become part of our valued corporate community. In this collaborative and supportive environment, you'll have the chance to take advantage of benefits that we offer our employees as well as benefits just for interns. These include:

- > Medical, dental and vision insurance
- > Holiday pay
- > Tuition reimbursement
- > Saving plan – 401K
- > Mileage/airfare reimbursement
- > Housing allowance

Get started in your pursuit of a rewarding Rockwell Collins internship with a few program basics:

Who – The Accounting & Finance Internship Program serves qualifying college students who want to gain hands-on career experience in accounting or finance with an innovative, multi-billion-dollar corporation.

What – If you're selected for the program, you'll spend a summer working full-time with us. Or, you can arrange for a part-time internship throughout the school year. Many of our first-time interns enjoy their experience so much that they come back for subsequent internships.

Where – Program participants will have the chance to work at Rockwell Collins corporate headquarters in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, as well as in any of our worldwide locations where accounting and finance internships are available.

How – To qualify for the program, you should be at least a sophomore in college, pursuing a bachelor's degree in accounting or finance, with a grade-point average of 3.0 or above. Ideally, you'll also have strong analytical and critical thinking ability, an uncompromising customer focus and superior leadership and interpersonal skills.
