A PLACE WHERE LEARNING NEVER STOPS

Where you start in your career at Travelers is only the beginning. With thousands of different jobs around the world, the only limit to opportunity is your ambition and imagination. What you learn in one area can lead to unexpected places, into careers you may have never imagined.

The Operations Leadership Development Program (OLDP) is a challenging multi-year rotational program designed to accelerate the development of future leaders. You'll experience a diverse set of assignments across the enterprise while strengthening your business acumen and leadership skills. You'll have opportunities to relocate across the country while leading projects, developing teams, and gaining management experience. We invest in participants by providing professional development, senior leadership mentoring, enterprise networking, as well as technical and on-the-job training. Ultimately, you'll land yourself an impactful Operations role, joining a diverse group of alumni and leaders across the organization.

“Joining the OLDP took me on a journey of self-discovery. It helped nurture and cultivate the gifts and strengths that were already in me through challenging rotational assignments, working with phenomenal leaders and being surrounded by a group of talented peers. In the midst of all this, I was able to discover my authentic leadership style which helped prepare me to successfully lead others.”

– Rashia, OLDP Graduate

"My most impactful experience in the OLDP was relocating to Denver, CO for a field leadership rotation. With the help of several managers and mentors, I spent 18 months learning how to effectively lead a large operations team. I leveraged prior experiences from the OLDP to set a clear vision and motivate my direct reports. My leadership skills were developed in an inviting environment where I could learn and add value to the business."
