NYU Langone’s Administrative Fellowship is a one year, full-time, salaried program (with the potential opportunity for a second year). The Fellowship offers on-the-job training in the skills and responsibilities required of a hospital administrator in a major academic medical center. As a Fellow, you will be placed at the very center of NYU Langone Health’s hospital operations and work alongside the institution’s leaders and innovators. A feature that most distinguishes our program is that Fellows can tailor and define their experiences through the variety of projects they work on during their time with NYU Langone.

As part of this program, Fellows learn by assuming increasing levels of responsibility and become involved with a broad range of operational issues, personnel, and processes, while being precepted by senior-level administrators.

The Administrative Fellowship is both rotational and project-based in nature. The initial phase consists of rotations throughout NYU Langone designed to educate and orient Fellows to the functions and structure of the organization. Upon completion of the rotations (2-3 months), fellows become fully immersed in projects and can work on multiple hospital-wide initiatives as well as projects at the unit/department level. In addition, fellows have the flexibility to seek out projects in personal areas of interest. Fellows are precepted by members of executive leadership.

Applicants are required to graduate from an accredited healthcare management program (MHA, MHSA, MPH, MPA or MBA program with a focus in healthcare administration) by the beginning of the fellowship in July 2022. All applications should be submitted electronically through the National Administrative Fellowship Centralized Application Service (NAFCAS). Any applications submitted after the NAFCAS deadline (October 1st, 2021) will not be considered.
